Merely a Suggestion.
A suggestion to enterprising furniture concerns is offered in an item that comes from Springfield, Ohio, to the effect that a wealthy young country couple walked into a furniture store there and asked permission to be married. The firm accommodated them, called in a minister, and saw that the knot was tied. The dispatch goes on to say that after the ceremony the couple selected their household goods from the stock in the store and departed supremely happy. Now, why could not furniture houses at Napoleon do the same thing? The marriage department of big combination stores ought to be popular.

A Tiffin man accidentally upset a half barrel of pork brine around one of his plum trees. The tree, which had never before been surprised him with a big crop of plums that season. Since then he has treated his plum trees to an annual bath of salt brine and his prolific plum crop is the wonder of the neighborhood.

Worm Medicine Cures a Sore Throat!

One of our good housewives was badly afflicted with a sore throat last week. Knowing that she had some of the very effective throat lozenges in her medicine chest, she concluded she would resort to them, and did so, as she thought. The remedy proved instantaneously, and in telling the wonderful efficacy of the lozenges to a friend she was anxious to learn the name of the wonderful medicine. The box was taken from the mantle, but instead of being throat lozenges it contained worm lozenges! Of course the joke was on the lady. Now the question arises, was it really the worm lozenges which effected a cure, or was it simply imagination?

The Golden Rule Dusk boot is handled only by Polker & Westhovens, sole agents.

The Electropoise.

It cures by filling your system with pure oxygen from the air. It is a wonderful remedy for all but four diseases. It never needs to be recharged. It is doing fine work in Napoleon. Read following testimony:

NAPOLEON, O., Oct. 13, '94.

I was afflicted with a severe attack of the Electropoise for bronchitis, which has impaired my health for several years past and am happy to say I have lost nothing, except my former ill-health and have in its stead health and strength.

Respectfully,
MISS MARTHA KOCH.

A Success.

On Saturday evening, Hon. John S. Snook closed his week's campaign in Henry county. Our Democrats all ways did have a warm feeling for Mr. Snook, but they were not so warm today as they were before. His speeches are brim full of argument and carry conviction with them, and have added much to arouse the enthusiasm of the Democrats in Henry county. He made five political speeches in the county while here, and addressed the old soldiers at the Deshler reunion, where he came in contact with DeWitt, the Republican candidate. The comparison of the two candidates was so marked that it was admitted upon all sides that Mr. Snook was the abler man of the two, and that he was the right man to send to Washington. DeWitt may have the "boodle," but it cannot be denied that Snook has the brains. Before the campaign is over Mr. Snook will in all probability address the people of Napoleon, who are anxious to hear him and get acquainted with the next Congressman from the 5th district.

Barn Burned.

About six o'clock last Saturday evening the large barn on the Haly farm, one mile north of town on the Bryan pike, caught fire and was burned to the ground.

Mr. Carl Luetz, who had the renting of the farm, had just finished his chores and returned to the house for his supper. The fire must have started shortly after he left the barn for he had not been in the house but a short time when his young son discovered the fire from the window. All that could be got out of the burning building was a corn plow and a drill, four horses being suffocated by the time they were reached. In addition to the horses Mr. Luetz lost all his wheat, hay, four loads of corn, a number of farm implements, including a new binder, and about 25 tons of straw which was stacked right back of the barn.

The structure was insured for $500 but the loss of Mr. Luetz on the stock, grain and implements will reach $800. A subscription paper was started to buy the gentleman a new team of horses and about $300 raised.

The time to save money is when you can buy boots and shoes cheapest at Polker & Westhovens.

Business Men Protected.

The city council on Monday evening passed an ordinance requiring that all transient dealers who strike the town heavily be licensed. This is no more than right, and is but doing justice to the prominent business men of the city, who help to pay the amount of money which is required to keep up the expenses of the corporation. It would be a blessing if all transient dealers were licensed, as this cannot be, let them be heavily licensed, or taxed.

Large Peach.

As a peach rather Father Fitz is a decided success. Six years ago he planted a peach stone in the ground at his home on Clinton street, and this year he gathered fruit from the tree the stone produced which measured from ten to ten and a half inches in girth. Father Fitz has named the fruit orange peach, and we think it is well named, as it is protected with a sample which was as large as a common sized orange, and which measured ten inches in circumference. The flavor of the fruit is fine and is remarkable for being raised from the seed.

Prohibition Meeting.

Hon. Hamilton T. Earles, of Iron-ton, Ohio, Prohibition nominee for Member of Board of Public Works, will speak in Napoleon, at the court house, after noon and evening of Oct. 22nd, at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. Every-body come and hear him discuss the issues of the day, especially the great problem of finance and the labor question from a Prohibition standpoint.

He will also speak at McClure, in Honser's Hall, afternoon and evening of Oct. 23rd, at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. Don't forget the dates.

J. M. SUTTER.

A Failure.

After sounding the bugle call over the county for the faithful to assemble, less than 100 people were at the depot when McKimly and his special car passed through the city Saturday afternoon. The train stopped at the depot and the Secretary of State Taylor and Auditor of State Poe were placed on exhibition for a few minutes, at a cost to the State of Ohio of something not much less than $100 per day. The exhibition comes high, but the dear people must have the show even if the State treasury is almost bankrupt, at least the Republican dynasty put the show on the road, whether the people wanted it or not.

Dead Shot for Hog Cholera.

Saur & Balsey have invested in a large stock of Hall's Hog Cholera Cure, which has been thoroughly tested and found to be reliable to use as a prevention as well as cure in all the different diseases which hogs most generally known as hog cholera. This remedy is not entirely new, but has been in use for several years, and is without a doubt the best and most reliable to be found in the markets anywhere. This house also carries a full line of the best and most reliable medicine used by the best veterinarians in the country for the relief and cure of all the different diseases most prevalent among horses and cattle. No good farmer can afford to be without, at least, a few of the leading remedies in his stable.

Sad Death.

The funeral of Miss Mary Funcheon, eldest daughter of Michael Funcheon, occurred on Tuesday, from the Catholic church in this city. Miss Mary had been visiting her uncle, Wm. Markett, in Paulding, and while there was stricken down with typhoid fever, from the effects of which she died after an illness of twenty-one days. Her remains were brought home for burial, the last rites being accorded them on Tuesday, as stated above.

At the time of death Mary was in the 18th year of her age, just in the prime of young girlhood. She was a dutiful daughter, a bright companion, and one beloved by all who had her acquaintance. The stricken parents and relatives have the deep sympathy of the entire community in which they reside.

Seeking Information Under Difficulties.

For the past few weeks Steve Bissonette has had occasion to do considerable driving over the county. Last week one day, while driving along the road in a different part of the county, Steve, who was accompanied by a gentleman companion, came upon a funeral procession, and, being a little curious to know who they were burying, drove along side of the rear vehicle in the procession, his companion enquiring who was dead.

"The person in the hearse," you 6-8 fool," came the response. Just about that time Steve was busily engaged in looking the other way, admiring the beauties of a wheat field, in order to keep from roaring at the disfigurement of his friend.

40 inch wide fancy wool dress goods, just the best goods wear, only 37 1/2 a yard, same goods sold last fall for 60 and 65 per yard. See them at Geo. H. Rohrs & Bro's.

Geo. Russell, ex-Republican county auditor, our reform (?) auditor, who has been proven the most expensive auditor the county has ever had, and also it has been proven that he was one of the most neglectful, paraded before the public a few weeks ago the fact that the Commissioner's Journal had remained for some little time unsigned by the proper officials—the present incumbent.

We have other and more important business besides looking up these small matters, but knowing full well he was guilty of the same charge, we took the time to glance over a volume of the Commissioner's Record for the year 1890, and by turning over comparatively few leaves came across eight different places that were not signed by him, which should have been, and which remain unsigned to-day, after the lapse of years. We cite Vol. 9, Com. Record, 1890, pages 464, 472, 473, 474-5, 484, 487, 489 and 518.

In glancing over the Vol. we also noticed places in the record which were badly scratched, interlined and especially noticed one page which had the margin covered with the record, a similar case which he charges against Auditor Resl. Any man so negligent and if he wishes to be a self-sustained auditor, he must take these small and unimportant points in the records of any official. There is nothing smart in it, as Russell wishes the people to understand.
